

DRAFT PROGRAMME

08:00-09:00	REGISTRATION AND REFRESHMENTS
09:00-09:10	WELCOME ADDRESS from TTJ
09:10-09:40	OPENING SPEECH: Health and well-being in the built environment <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• What challenges stand in the way of designing healthy buildings?</li> <li>• The WELL Building standard</li> <li>• Biophilic Design and the Biophilic Office project at the BRE</li> </ul> Oliver Heath, Architect, Oliver Heath Design
09:40-10:10	RESEARCH UPDATE: Wood and Wellness <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A look at global research into wood and well-being</li> <li>• Can wood benefit our psychological and physiological well-being?</li> <li>• Preservative-treated wood and indoor air</li> </ul> Ed Suttie, Director (Research), BRE (Building Research Establishment)
10:10-10:40	CHALLENGE AND OPPORTUNITY: The wellbeing economy and healthy buildings movement becoming a market disruptor in the UK housing market <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The housing sector and wellness</li> <li>• How can the timber sector position itself as a thought leader in wellness?</li> </ul> Oliver Jones, Director of Research, Ryder Architecture
10:40-11:10	Networking Coffee Break
11:10-11:40	PANEL: Timber sustainability and the wellness market <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Timber sustainability is especially critical for its use in wellness applications, but what are the routes to assured legal and sustainable sourcing?</li> <li>• The economic, social and environmental benefits of using sustainably sourced timber. Carbon and life cycle analysis performance</li> </ul> Moderator: Christiane Lellig, Campaign Director, Wood for Good  Prof. Callum Hill, Director, JCH Industrial Ecology Ltd.  David Hopkins, Managing Director, Timber Trade Federation  Rick Wheal, Principal, Elementa Consulting  Pablo van der Lugt, Head of Sustainability, Accsys Group
11:40-12:00	FURNITURE MAKER: How WELLness is affecting furniture design <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Furniture is often the main touch point within a home or workspace.</li> <li>• How to design and develop furniture that meets WELL standards.</li> <li>• How can we navigate the multitude of certification schemes and “WELLwash” that crowd this topic.</li> </ul> Sean Sutcliffe, Director, Benchmark Furniture
12:00-12:30	Idea Showcase: Opportunity to hear from a range of timber manufacturers and suppliers on how latest wood products and construction systems can perform, add value and meet wellness needs. Including John Alexander, Director of Sales and Product Development, Accsys Group  Colin Wheatley, Product Manager, MEDITE SMARTPLY

12:30-13:30	LUNCH
13:30-14:00 DAEWHA KANG DESIGN 	CASE STUDY: WOOD AND THE WORKPLACE: The Winter Gardens at Mitie's offices inside The Shard are helping to measure staff wellness levels <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• What impacts can use of timber structurally and in interiors have on the ambience of the workplace and the wellbeing of workforces</li> <li>• The healthy office and staff retention</li> </ul> DaeWha Kang, Lead Designer, DaeWha Kang Design Alex Morris, Head of Workplace Wellbeing &amp; Behavioural Change Psychologist, Mitie
14:00-14:30 	CASE STUDY – HEALTHCARE: Maggie's Oldham, the first hardwood CLT building in the UK <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reversing the norms of hospital architecture, where institutionalised environments can leave patients dispirited</li> <li>• How structural wood, timber products and woodfibre insulation can contribute to a healthy environment and boost wellness</li> </ul> Alex de Rijke, Director, dRMM Architects
14:30-15:00   THE NATIONAL FOREST	PRESENTATION: The National Forest and James Latham – A Partnership for Wood and Wellness The National Forest charity is creating one of the boldest environmental regeneration stories in the UK. The former coalfields of the Midlands are being transformed into England's newest and largest deciduous 'multi-purpose' forest. Its partnership with James Latham is helping to reconnect communities and businesses with nature. Chris Sutton, Managing Director, James Latham David Bourque, Director of Development, National Forest
15:00-15:20	Networking Coffee Break
15:20-15:40 Sarah Wigglesworth Architects	CASE STUDY - EDUCATION: Mellor Primary School's 'Tree-Top Classroom' – an exemplar space for learning embedded in its woodland setting <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Using natural materials to support a sustainable pedagogy and to forge connections with the natural environment</li> <li>• How design and material specification can bring about positive outcomes in pupil engagement</li> </ul> Eleanor Brough, Associate, Sarah Wigglesworth Architects
15:40-16:20      	PANEL DISCUSSION and Q&amp;A: Sustainable, healthy architecture for the 21st century A chance for speakers to expand on their themes around the role and potential of timber and wood products in creating healthy buildings for the future; and for delegates to ask question and raise issues on key wood and wellness topics. Moderator: Rupert Scott, Membership and Marketing Manager, TRADA Ed Suttie, Director (Research), BRE (Building Research Establishment) Meredith Bowles, Founding Director, Mole Architects Olga Turner, Director, Ekkist Helen Hewitt, Chief Executive, BWF Colin Wheatley, Product Manager, MEDITE SMARTPLY
16:20	Chair's closing remarks followed by refreshments and drinks reception